PROJECT INFO

PeaceWorks, together with our partner organisations, are offering two creative training courses on Intersectional Solidarity for youth workers. We are now recruiting for the second course week, you are welcome to apply even if you have not taken part of TC1!

- The second course week (TC2) will be held between the 20th to the 29th of March 2024, Sweden.

We look forward to your application!

I. TC1 - November

II. TC2 - March

THIS TRAINING COURSE IS FOR YOUTH WORKERS FROM THE CZECH REPUBLIC, FRANCE, GERMANY, IRELAND, ITALY, NORTH MACEDONIA, SPAIN AND SWEDEN.

With the support of the
Erasmus+ Programme
of the European Union

PeaceWorks

OBJECTIVES

- INCREASE KNOWLEDGE ABOUT INTERNATIONAL SOLIDARITY AND INTERSECTIONALITY
- GENERATE A CREATIVE TOOL BOX FOR WORKING WITH SOCIAL CHANGE THROUGH INFORMAL LEARNING METHODS
- CREATE AN INTERNATIONAL SOLIDARITY NETWORK OF YOUTH WORKERS WITHOUT BORDERS

PRINCIPLES

- AN INTERSECTIONAL ANALYSIS OF GLOBAL (IN)JUSTICE
- DEMOCRATIC PRINCIPLES
- CRITICAL THINKING
- SYSTEMIC APPROACHES TO SOCIAL CHANGE
- INFORMAL AND EXPERIENCE-BASED LEARNING

With the support of the
Erasmus+ Programme
of the European Union

PeaceWorks

METHODS

SYSTEMATIC APPROACH

- understanding that individuals are embedded in a social context tinged by power structures
- focusing on relationships, for example between "youth worker" and "target group"
- including reflexivity over one's relation to the target group

NON-FORMAL LEARNING

- learning from each others real working experiences
- visualising the issues which are handled through different tools
- combining theoretical learning with systemic work and theatre
- learning through creative tools

INTERSECTIONAL LEARNING

- understanding that power structures and oppression overlap and coexist
- exploring how to apply intersectional methods into social work and projects

THEATRE OF THE OPPRESSED

- a method developed in the 1970's in Brazil
- aims to deconstruct systemic social inequalities based on the experiences and perspectives of marginalised groups
- invites participants to physically join the stage, broadening their role from spectators to spect-actors.

With the support of the
Erasmus+ Programme
of the European Union
